AFTERMATH

Of The Consolidation Question in Jefferson County.

Dr. S. D. Wetherby, of Middletown, Tells Some Interesting Things About Attempt To Build Model School in This County.

"And a little child shall lead them." It has often occurred to me that we have been led by most every conceivable interest except that of our children in handling the school question. For years some of our good people have insisted upon making the race for school trustee in Middletown. Under the old law it seemed useless for a man to waste his time and energies on a system that had been antiquated forty years. The law in nearly all the states had been "weighed in the balance and found wanting." But the new law as framed, copied partly from the states in advance of us, worked upon by my friend, the late lamented Dr. Rurick N. Roark who gave his life in defense of the common school of Kentucky, doctored afterward by our present State Superintendent, seemed to be the one first step in the direction. Under this new law I, the race for school trustee of our sub-district, defeating a "friend, Mr. Geo. W. Hinkley."

In justice to Mr. Hinkley, I stated, he has been one of our supporters. Recognizing our children he was anxious to bring to the attention of our public election as it was my first time to try six out of one (one member) national division.

At our own meeting number of us were impressed by condition of our schools and school grounds.

About this time our attention was called to the Jefferson County Institute. A card asking for information stated the new law would be explained by our county attorney. After Mr. Selligman in his opinion had pronounced the good points of the new law and had about 100 questions asked him, it was apparent he hadn't had more than a year's time to be made familiar with the good and indifferent points of this bug bear that to date has created so much discussion. Our county superintendent next introduced Prof. E. H. Hank, stating he was one man who was willing to defend this new law. The professor made a grand effort against great odds in trying to uphold the Jerry Sullivan house bill, which two general assemblies had wrestled with in order to give us a good practical working law. This new school law gives the county board of education the full power to estimate and lay before the Fiscal Court of the county the annual needs of the county in accordance with such estimate. It's the mandatory duty of the Fiscal Court to levy the amount as suggested by the County Board of Education. In other words, the Fiscal Court has no jurisdiction in the matter. The County Board of Education is made the levying body in reality.

This is the point which has been so little understood. In preparing motion for our board asking for a 20-cent levy on every $100 of assessable property of Jefferson County, I was told by our superintendent we had never had a cent over the county as a unit of taxation. The different school districts under the old law, now sub-districts, had levied different amounts, varying from 8 cents to 20 cents, in the different districts. This was a most ineffective system. While some would have as much as 15 cents levied from one to 20 cents, others would have 5 cents, but most districts would not have a cent levied. This was a miserable mismanagement.

When I was asked to make a 20-cent levy, I replied this would only give us $12,000 after paying the high school. When I could not see the wisdom of a 5-cent levy, I was asked to make it 10 cents. I replied this would only give us $12,000 after paying the high school. When I could not see the wisdom of a 5-cent levy, I was asked to make it 10 cents. I replied this would only give us $12,000 after paying the high school. When I could not see the wisdom of a 5-cent levy, I was asked to make it 10 cents. I replied this would only give us $12,000 after paying the high school.

Personally, I never did believe it was optional with the court. I thought

MISS SKILES

Of Buchel, Takes First Place in Cave-Ring Contest.

Second District Working Hard for Capital Prices—Still Nothing Done in First, Third and Fourth.

From fourth position in The Jeffersonian's Cave and Ring Contest Miss Elizabeth Skiles, of Buchel, takes the lead during the past week, and we understand her friends at Buchel are working hard to honor her with a free trip to Mammoth Cave and a $50 diamond ring. However, the friends of the contestants living in Jeffersontown, Fern Creek and other places are working equally hard for their favorites.

It is said that our dear "Uncle Rube" is making a "gum-shoe" race in the contest and he is to be country county instituting the race. Much friendly rivalry is being manifested in the Second district, each community desiring to receive the honor of winning the first prize.

There were no changes in the result of the districts the past week, except three new candidates being nominated in the Third. As two free trips are to be given from each of these districts, it is beginning to look like these residents do not care anything about this great wonder of the world, where people come from all over the earth to make it a visit. The free trips are offered regardless of how many votes the contestants receive, and a grand opportunity is presented to some boy or girl who has never been to the cave and desires to go in a small and select party. Think how easy these six trips could be won. The way it stands now, 611 votes will win a trip in the First district, 111 in the third and 611 votes will win in the Fourth. An opportunity like this, doubtless, never be given again. It is divinely to us to the people of these districts to wake up.

A country newspaper is one of the best assets of any county, and the section that supports it best is classed as more enterprising and wide-awake. The people of the Second district naturally support The Jeffersonian because the paper happens to be located in their district, but that is no good reason why citizens of other parts of the county should not try to receive first honors in a contest like the one now in progress. They have every advantage, as but few in the Second district are not already subscribers, thereby giving the contestants a larger number of people to hand them to some person who has never seen a copy. In this way they can easily secure subscriptions. One hundred votes are given with each $1.00 subscription. Votes are also given on job printing when it is ordered by persons residing out in the county. This is done to increase our county patronage in this line, as The Jeffersonian feels entitled to all work done by country people.

There is plenty of time to get into the contest and win first prize, as it does not close until Sept. 25. The result of this contest will determine the section of the county that is more patriotic and worthy county instituting. What do the people of the First, Third and Fourth districts have to say in this regard?

ARMCHAIR AT MAMMOTH CAVE.

came to Middletown and we extended them our best Kentucky hospitality. I went with Mrs. Weaver to various places to lend her any aid or assistance in my power. And let me say these good people went solely in the interest of our children, without money and without price for their services; their hearts were in the work.

Can you say that much for our board of education? With possibly two or three exceptions, I have never seen our board go out of its way to help better the condition of our schools, even in their own divisions. And suppose we should take a little child and set him in the midst of them? Do you for one moment believe they would recognize their mission to our children? Would they know for one moment why or for what purpose they were elected?

The old error has said there are two handles to every question: beware of the wrong one. No question is settled until it is rightly settled. Truth crumbled to earth must rise again. The consolidated idea reminds us of Banquo's ghost. It will not be called for until it is called for by all the force of my nature, and state plainly: These good people came to the county as invited guests. They could and would devote all the time the place demanded, and in keeping the children even in view would serve his people well. S. D. WETHERBY.

Think Over. You have your house insured against fire, haven't you? That's all right, and we are glad to give you insurance on your life? If you haven't you should see me at once. Look about you and notice the number of fires you have and in your neighborhood recently. Might as well, eh? Well, look about you and see how many deaths you have had in your neighborhood lately. Quite a number have been reported in the last few days. You see the importance of life insurance, don't you? If you should die to-day how much money would you leave for the widow or mother? Don't go unprotected a day, but call and see me at once and get a policy in the Pacific Mutual Life and Loan and Master Marvin Long and best with a fund of $10,000.00 behind it to protect its policy holders. Write or phone J. C. Alcock, Jeffersontown, and I will call to you.

UNJUST CRITICISM.

Very unfair means are being used by a Louisville political newspaper to defeat Mr. Orville Stivers, regular Democratic nominee for County Superintendent of Schools for Jefferson County, on the charge of incompetency, because he failed to pass the county examination for teachers more than five years ago. The paper daily publishes ridiculous answers to questions Mr. Stivers gave in his examination, and the cartoons printed are very amusing to some people. This is unjust to this young man who has since applied himself and has struggled hard to overcome difficulties. Mr. Stivers passed a very creditable examination in 1907 and secured a state teachers' certificate, which qualifies him to serve as County Superintendent in case of his election in November. His failure in the examination five years ago, and his subsequent efforts to overcome difficulties, show that he is made of the right kind of material. The county is greatly in need of such young men, and Mr. Stivers should be encouraged in his efforts. At present he has two opponents—the Republican nominee, H. H. Sims, who it is charged, has failed to pass the required examination, and Mrs. Ross Stonebraker. In regard to Mr. Sims, we have nothing to say, as we do not know his qualifications, but Mrs. Stonebraker is receiving some severe criticism for making the race after being defeated for the nomination in the Democratic convention. Her chance for election is very slim, for an independent candidate seldom wins, and Mrs. Stonebraker has made many enemies in the county by coming out against the regular Democratic party, which has supported her for many years, and for taking a stand against a model school for the country children of the county. In the latter, however, she has made some friends among those opposed to the high-tax and a model school. It can also be said of Mrs. Stonebraker that she has done much for the schools in Jefferson county since she has held the office of School Superintendent, and has so kept her record that anyone desiring to know conditions in Jefferson county could easily do so by calling at her office. This was a great improvement that she made in this respect. But she has caused a great deal of bitter opposition on account of "playing politics," as has been charged, and it was plain to be seen at the county convention that the people were against her. It doesn't matter how well qualified she is for the position, if her party turns her head and the people do not want her, it appears that she should step down and out and let some one else have the office.

INGRATITUDE.

One of the most common sins in the past age is that of ingratitude—in gratitude for the blessings of God that we enjoy and ingratitude that we show to those of our fellow citizens who try to accomplish something for their fellow citizens. We turn to God when upon beds of affliction and beseech Him to give aid, but when He permits us to enjoy life and bestows abundant gifts upon us, many of us forget Him. It should be a pleasant duty to be grateful to God, for He has created, protected and comforted us. Nothing in this life is absolutely ours, but lent us from the hand all-provident. People too often forget this fact, and devote their lives to the world and the devil instead of showing their appreciation by living true to God and to mankind. The same ingratitude is manifested in our dealings with humanity. Let some good man offer to contribute a large sum of money to a church or a school and there will be those who will charge that he is doing this for show. Practical illustrations could be given every day. Our school trustees give the people without pay or appreciation. The town trustees are not paid a cent for their services, and when they make an effort to collect delinquent taxes or improve the town, instead of receiving the thanks that are rightfully due them, they are criticized. Many of us know our duty to God and humanity, but we forget ourselves. Let's be up and doing, and "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

THE TOWN PUMP.

The Town Pump has been used so much lately, on account of the extreme warm weather and dry "wells," I was afraid that I would be detected, so I went away on my vacation. Money ran out and I had to come home, and here I am again, at my old station and with the Jeffersonian's permission will give occurrences around the pump as I see them.

I see somebody has nominated my dear old "Uncle Ebenezer" as a contestant in your Mammoth Cave and Ring Contest. I'm for him! If he can run like he can write, he show will win.

The most amusing thing I have heard the last few days happened Saturday evening about 5 o'clock. A lovely young lady's father came over to the Pump to get a drink of water. This was the chance of a lifetime for the girl's sweetheart, to ask for her. He did, and met with the inquiry, "So you want to marry my daughter? Got any money?" He was a fly young man and answered, "Yes, I have a little; how much do you hold her at?"

OLD FOLK'S DAY.

Celebrated at Valley Station, Where Many Helpful Thoughts Were Given—Worshipped God As In Days of Old.

Valley Station, Aug. 16.—The services were conducted by Rev. Chas. Young Bogges, the oldest person in the house. The hymns were lined and sung in the old-fashioned way, before organs were used in the churches. Rev. Bogges read 1 Cor. 13, and told some very interesting and helpful experiences of his life. Rev. J. W. Conkling, of the Christian church, made a short, though helpful and appropriate, talk on "Our Allegiance to God."

At 2 p. m. services were opened by Rev. E. D. Bogges for the young people, the organ being used at this time. Rev. Bogges' subject was, "Remember not thy Creator in the days of thy youth."

May all that heard these good folk be benefited and be the means of helping others. All had an enjoyable day, the one sad thought being since the last meeting several had passed away from our midst.

SEATONVILLE BOYS.

There is Mr. Guy Mills—He just can't be beat. Whoever gets his company, May think it quite a treat.

Next comes "Pretty" Harvey—That is his latest name. The girls all think he is awful cute, and that he is a real treat.

Mr. Pound and Mr. Morse. Who I must not forget. For they are our young business men. And we are proud of them "you bet!"

There is Joe, just a little bashful. Though he is kind and true. Although you are seldom with us. There's some one waiting for you.

Mr. Tenney and Mr. Frederick. They are the dandiest boys yet. And I am sorry to say. That these young men have never met.

My dear old friend, Mr. Brown. He is a good and jolly boy. He is a good and jolly boy. He is a good and jolly boy.

Let, but not least. He is a good and jolly boy. He is a good and jolly boy. He is a good and jolly boy.

New boys, don't be astonished. We should all be glad to see them. I remain as ever, the same.

So the other tried his mechanical knowledge when the engine failed to start properly. He got under it and worked, screwing bolts, tightening nuts, adjusted and readjusted the sparkers, sweat and pulled and tugged, at last cracked until his arm was sore, puffed and sweated some more, and finally sent home for his horse and buggy.

That is the reason the other sixteen county patrolmen are laughing.
